-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 9-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

I- Claims 10-12 recite the limitation "said transition surface" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 9-11,13-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Simpson et al. 5,327,945.

Simpson et al. show a fuel dispensing nozzle (col. 1, ll. 48-50), which comprises a generally tubular spout (101), the spout having an inside surface (103) in close proximity to the fuel supply and an outside surface (102) opposite of the inside surface, creating a curved and continuous endface surface between the inside surface and the outside surface as seen in Figure 10, the transition surface is radial and elliptical as seen in Figure 10, the tubular spout includes dripless features (col. 5, ll. 1-9).

The device shown by Simpson et al. will perform the method recited in claims 9-11,13 during normal operational use of the device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-5,7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Simpson et al. 5,327,945 in view of Dalhart et al. 5,765,609.

Simpson et al. disclose a fuel dispensing nozzle (col. 1, 48-53), which comprises a generally tubular spout (101) attached to the nozzle (col. 1, ll. 48-53), the spout having an inside surface (103), an outside surface (102), an endface surface of the spout (the curved end portion of the spout in Figure 10), the endface surface creating a curved and continuous connection between both the inside surface and the outside surface as seen in Figure 10, the endface surface is radial and elliptical as seen in Figure 10. Simpson et al. lack a valve is located within the nozzle. Dalhart et al. teach the use of a fuel dispensing nozzle (20) having a spout (22), and within the nozzle is valve (44).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the valve of Dalhart et al. within the nozzle of Simpson et al., in order to control flow of fuel through the nozzle.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 8,12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 8/14/2006 have been fully considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

10. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Frederick C. Nicolas whose telephone number is (571)-
